

WILL BROOK NO FURTHER DELAY

Wilson Decides to Read Mexican Message to Congress.

HUERTA PLAYING FOR TIME

Indications Now Are That Negotiations With Southern Republic Are at an End—American Officials Possess Advice That Present Mexican Government Cannot Last Much Longer.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The dilatory attitude of the Huerta government gave administration officials hope that some concessions might be made to the American proposals for peace in Mexico, but indications point to a final ending of the negotiations when President Wilson reads his message to both houses of congress defining the policy which he thinks the United States should pursue toward its Southern neighbor.

A twenty-four-hour postponement of the presentation of the message was agreed to after a joint request from Frederico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, and John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico.

It followed repeated efforts on the part of the Huerta officials to have the reading of the document deferred indefinitely.

Mr. Lind left the Mexican capital for Vera Cruz, however, with the understanding that the United States would announce its policy today unless the Huerta government receded. Mr. Lind had made certain supplementary suggestions to Senator Gamboa, the nature of which was not divulged, but administration officials declared these constituted no departure from the fundamentals of the American note.

Lind Stops at Vera Cruz.

Mr. Lind informed Senator Gamboa that he would stop in Vera Cruz and could be reached there in case there should be any reply to his last suggestions.

For several days Gamboa and Lind have been fencing, the former attempting to procure a new basis of negotiations and the latter declaring the United States would not yield any of its points or agree to any considerable prolongation of the negotiations, unless Huerta withdrew his note of reply to the American proposals.

Officials declared that Mr. Lind had gone to Vera Cruz to avoid any embarrassment in the Mexican capital following the publication there of President Wilson's message.

It was said that Mr. Lind, having practically concluded his mission, went to Vera Cruz chiefly to impress upon the Mexican administration that today noon is positively the last moment the United States will wait before proclaiming to the world the position it has taken toward the Huerta government and the course which it is ready to pursue for years if necessary to uphold the principle of orderly and constitutional government in Latin America.

Huerta Not Asked to Retire.

With the nature of the four proposals of the United States admitted officially discussion centered chiefly on the absence of any demand for the immediate retirement of Huerta, which had generally been supposed was part of the American note.

It was suggested by officials, however, that this government could not logically call upon Huerta to resign a post which it never recognized him as legally holding.

While American officials regret that they were unsuccessful in bringing things to a definite point through the Lind negotiations information, official and unofficial, indicates to them that the Huerta government cannot last much longer.

The United States will preserve a policy of noninterference and nonrecognition, while developments take their course. Officials are emphatic, however, in declaring they will insist on proper protection of foreigners and their interests, though they will urge foreigners to leave the trouble zones.

LIND SAFE AT VERA CRUZ

Special Envoy Will Go Aboard Battleship Louisiana.

Vera Cruz, Aug. 27.—Attended by twenty-four secret service men Mr. Lind, President Wilson's envoy, arrived here from the Mexican capital. He was accompanied by Mrs. Lind.

Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher met him at the terminal station. It is expected after a brief rest Mr. Lind will go aboard the battleship Louisiana and get into communication with Washington by wireless.

FIVE KILLED AT CROSSING

Train on Pennsylvania Line Runs Down Auto.

Freeport, Pa., Aug. 27.—J. E. Rowan, his wife, two children and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Allan Woodsmith, all of Brackenridge, were killed when their automobile was struck by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Lane station, Lanville, near here. Rowan, his wife and a child, a year old, were killed instantly.

BORAH'S INCOME TAX RATES LOSE

Ten Republicans Aid Democrats in Defeating Plan.

VOTE IN SENATE IS 47 TO 17

Demand for an increase of the Tax on Large incomes is Accompanied by the Assertion That Men With Great Wealth Will Escape Their Just Share of the Taxes Under the New Bill.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Attempts to increase the limit of the proposed income tax on the larger incomes failed in the senate when Senators Borah, Bristow and Cummings led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

Senator Borah offered an amendment increasing the graduated tax on larger incomes until it would have reached 5 per cent on those above $4,000 a year. The Democrats, aided by ten Republicans, defeated the amendment, 47 to 17.

A more radical provision, with a minimum tax of 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more, will be submitted by Senator Bristow.

In the pending bill the rates on larger incomes are: 1 per cent on incomes from $20,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; and 3 per cent above $100,000.

Senator Borah proposed the following additional tax: 1 per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $30,000; 2 per cent from $30,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; 4 per cent from $100,000 to $200,000; and 5 per cent above $200,000.

The Democrats voted solidly against the increase and were joined by Senators Clarke of Wyoming; Gallinger, Lippitt, Lodge, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smoot, Warren and Weeks, from the Republican side.

The demand for an increase of the tax on the big incomes was accompanied by the declaration that men with large incomes would escape their just share of the taxes under the new bill.

ASKS PARDON FOR DEITZ

Attorney Says New Evidence Shows He Didn't Kill Harp.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 27.—Claiming discovery of new evidence proving absolutely that John Deitz, defender of Cameron dam, could not have fired the shot that killed Deputy Sheriff Harp, Attorney Hubert O. Wolfe of Milwaukee has petitioned Governor McGovern for a pardon for Deitz, who is serving a life sentence in the state prison.

Arms experts, it is said, are ready to swear that a bullet from Deitz' gun would easily penetrate several inches of oak.

The shot that killed Harp entered the deputy's mouth and lodged in the rear of his skull.

PLANS BIG GRAFT INQUIRY

Milwaukee Prosecutor Will Investigate All County Departments.

Milwaukee, Aug. 27.—District Attorney Edward Yockey announced his intention of making an extensive inquiry into every department of the Milwaukee county government as the result of graft charges brought against John Falbe, steward at the county asylum for insane.

Falbe was arraigned in district court and his hearing was postponed until Sept. 9.

It is alleged that he obtained $68 from the Cudahy Packing company in the form of discounts for making purchases from the Cudahy company.

NO STRIKE ON BURLINGTON

Differences Between Trainmen and Road Will Be Arbitrated.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Danger of a strike affecting the 45,000 trainmen of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad was averted.

Points at issue involved in a complete revision of the working conditions on the road will be decided by an arbitration committee of eight men to be appointed within fifteen days.

This was announced by Judge W. L. Chambers, United States commissioner of mediation.

LEAD MINERS GIVEN RAISE

Strike in Missouri Settled on Plan Proposed by State Board.

Farmington, Mo., Aug. 27.—The strike in the lead belt of southwestern Missouri has been settled. The miners agreed to accept a wage increase of 25 cents a day. The Western Federation of Miners was not formally recognized in the settlement.

The plan of settlement to which both union men and mine owners agreed was that submitted by the state board of mediation and arbitration.

TAMMANY NAMES WHITMAN

New York District Attorney Endorsed for Re-Election.

New York, Aug. 27.—Tammany Hall placed District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, Republican, on its ticket for re-election. The district attorney, when informed of Tammany's action, said he was not ready to say whether he would accept the designation, but would make his decision known within two or three days.

Mr. Whitman's acceptance of the Tammany endorsement would place his name on the fusionist, independence league, Republican, Progressive and Tammany tickets.

MINNESOTA BANKS SECURE $2,000,000

Treasury Allows Money to Aid in Marketing Crops.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The appropriation of $2,000,000 to banks in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to aid them in marketing crops was announced by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

A. M. Peabody and P. M. Kerst, both of St. Paul, were named as special representatives of the government to assist the clearing house commission to pass upon securities offered for the proposed deposits.

"In each depository city," said Secretary McAdoo, "the government has chosen a special representative who will serve in conjunction with a clearing house commission of five to pass on all commercial paper recommended as security for deposits and all paper before being accepted must be unanimously recommended by this commission."

The total amount allotted to date is $46,500,000, of which $24,000,000 has been apportioned to fourteen Western states and $21,800,000 to the thirteen Southern states and the District of Columbia.

"Accidental" Protection.

We have heard a great deal about "accidental" protection, but it was Senator Lane who found "accidental" protection in one item. The Oregon senator was favoring the duty on bananas and said that when the Panama canal was completed the apples and other fruits of Oregon would be sold in the east in place of bananas. Senator Jones of Washington asked if the rate on bananas was intended as a protective duty.

"I think not," replied Lane. "I think it just accidentally happens that way."

There was quite an outburst of laughter at the answer.

Burton's Seriousness.

Senator Williams replied to Senator Burton in the senate, prefacing his remarks by saying, "It is a well known fact to all those who know and love him that when he does try to look serious nobody in the world can look more serious than my genial friend, the senator from Ohio."

But Burton is always quite serious.

Lack of Attention.

Senator Smith of Michigan called attention to the fact that only eight Democratic senators listened to Senator Bristow's speech opening the debate on the sugar schedule, although it was conceded that the Kansas senator was one of the best informed men in the senate on sugar.

A little later while Senator Williams was speaking Bristow asked to be excused as he had had no lunch. "Why," exclaimed Williams, "I thank God for the fact that there is nothing in the constitution compelling us to listen to one another. It would be the most miserable existence on earth if we had to stay here all the time and hear one another."

Gardner and the Tariff.

If Congressman Gardner is nominated for governor of Massachusetts he will make the tariff the issue. In fact, it has been given out by the Republicans that they intend to force that issue in every state holding an election this fall. Gardner has already printed the views of New England men in pamphlet form for distribution in the Old Bay State during the campaign.

PUSHING THE CURRENCY BILL

Looks as Though the "Impossible" Would Happen.

WILSON FORCING CONGRESS

Massachusetts Members Fighting Free Fish—"Accidental" Protection on Bananas—Lack of Attention by Opposing Factions—Gardner to Make Tariff Issue in Gubernatorial Fight.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—What senators and representatives said was impossible is to be accomplished. Currency legislation has been "impossible" during all these years.

As different bills have been proposed, including the much abused Aldrich plan (which by some other name would have been called very good), legislators have practically thrown up their hands and said nothing could pass.

But several months ago the president sent a message to congress saying that currency legislation was needed. But even the majority party did not take it very seriously, although work progressed on the bill in the hands of real enthusiasts. Then a movement for postponement was made, to which nearly everybody agreed until the president sent the faithful Tammamy to the senate and the caucus by an overwhelming majority decided to stay and push currency legislation. It seems to be the man behind the gun that makes this possible.

Taft Also Forced Action.

It must not be supposed that Roosevelt and Wilson are the only men who could "drive" congress. Taft forced congress as well as other presidents. A notable example was in the Canadian reciprocity bill. Senator Borah of Idaho, commenting on the criticisms of Wilson for forcing his ideas, said he did not take much comfort in them. "If Republican senators," he said, "had voted their convictions when the Canadian reciprocity bill was before congress there would not have been ten votes on the Republican side in favor of it."

Senator Borah was scarcely mild. As I recall, there was scarcely a Republican senator who was really in favor of the bill, but was forced by the Taft administration.

Massachusetts Fish.

Those Massachusetts men can always be found on the firing line when a measure comes up taking the duty off fish. There was a strong fight against the Canadian reciprocity bill made by Congressman Gardner. The same member fought the fish provision in the Underwood bill, and both Massachusetts senators were on hand contesting the free fish provision in the senate.

Senator Lodge was not only eloquent, but historical, calling both the Adamses, who had been president, to sustain him in his fight for the fishing interests of Gloucester and Provincetown.

For some unknown reason fish goes into the agricultural schedule, and the Massachusetts senators were fighting side by side with western agricultural senators on this schedule.

"Accidental" Protection.

We have heard a great deal about "accidental" protection, but it was Senator Lane who found "accidental" protection in one item. The Oregon senator was favoring the duty on bananas and said that when the Panama canal was completed the apples and other fruits of Oregon would be sold in the east in place of bananas. Senator Jones of Washington asked if the rate on bananas was intended as a protective duty.

"I think not," replied Lane. "I think it just accidentally happens that way."

DEDICATE KEOKUK POWERDAM

Five Hundred School Girls in White Lead Parade.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 27.—With Governor George W. Clarke of Iowa to welcome visitors to the Hawkeye domain and Mayor J. F. Elder acting on behalf of the city the Keokuk and Hamilton power dam was dedicated.

A parade through the business streets, thence to Rand park, where the formal exercises were held, was a feature. Five hundred school girls, all dressed in white and bedecked with flowers, led the parade.

C. R. Joy, president of the Keokuk Industrial association, presided at the ceremony of dedication.

EMERY DECLARES BUCHANAN A CROOK

Manufacturers' Counsel Scores Illinois Congressman.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Examination of James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, about the activity of agents of the association against Representative Buchanan of Illinois ended the session of the senate lobby committee.

Emery said he opposed Buchanan because he considered that the latter, as an official of the structural iron workers, had sanctioned violence at Toledo, which differed only in degree from the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

"Well, the people of Chicago elected this bad man Buchanan, didn't they?" suggested Reed.

"Yes, and they elected Lorimer," replied the witness.

"And Edward Hines, one of your members, assisted to elect him. Did you ever assist in trying to defeat a crook?" asked Senator Reed.

"Yes, and this is a good illustration."

"You mean to characterize Buchanan as a crook?"

"I think that is a good description."

Emery was questioned of length concerning his office accounts, the investigators being particularly interested in one item, varying from $170 to $300 a month, "for clerical services."

Witness could not remember details of this, but said he thought the money was spent in keeping up an automobile for publicity and political activities.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 27.—

Miss Olive Saxton, for sixteen years secretary to Thomas A. Clark, dean of the University of Illinois, committed suicide in her room. The first coroner's jury composed of women that ever served in this country returned a verdict that death had been caused by asphyxiation.

GO FISHING IN LEAKY BOAT

Two Brothers and Sister Drown in Lake St. Clair.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 27.—Miss Sarah Clinsmith, twenty-nine years old, and her brothers, Lawrence and Charles, seventeen and twenty-six years old, respectively, all of Detroit, were drowned in Lake St. Clair, off Pearl Beach.

They went fishing in a leaky boat and when it filled they jumped overboard. A man in a motor boat went to the rescue, but the victims sank before he could reach them.

Flood Costs One Life.

Ely, Nev., Aug. 27.—One man was drowned when a wall of water from a cloudburst swept down Murray creek, which flows through Ely. The flood rose above the banks of the stream and inundated a portion of the business and residence section to a depth of several feet.

THAW LAWYERS CHANGE TACTICS

TO SAVE HIS WIFE'S HONOR

Milwaukee Prisoner Charges Police Drove Him to Crime.

Milwaukee, Aug. 27.—Following a dramatic plea that he forged checks to save his wife from dishonor, after being branded as a former convict by the police and charitable societies so that he could not hold a job, James Ludford was sentenced to two years in the state prison at Waupun.

Ludford is forty years old. He was born in England, served in the British army during the Boer war and then came to the United States. He is said to have a criminal record which extends to every state in the Union. He was sent to Stillwater prison for forgery a few years ago and also served time at Waupun.

He told the court that his wife was driven to dishonor by persecution by police and charitable workers. He said that when he left Stillwater he tried to give his wife a home but the police would not let him.

Withdraw Writ of Habeas Corpus in His Behalf.

MAY PROLONG PROCEEDINGS

Next Move in Case to Secure Fugitive's Deposition is Now Up to the State of New York—District Attorney Conger and Special Counsel Jerome Admit That They Are Deeply Puzzled.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 27.—Harry K. Thaw's Canadian attorneys withdrew the writ of habeas corpus obtained last week in his behalf and the fugitive from Matteawan was not arraigned in superior court.

The withdrawal of the writ may prolong the proceedings indefinitely. Rumors had been bandied about that the writ might be withdrawn and notice was finally filed with the clerk of the court.

A telegram was sent to Judge Glo-bensky at Montreal, who granted the writ, that such was counsel's desire.

The next move in the Thaw case is now distinctly up to those desiring his deportation. Under the present commitment he might remain in Sherbrooke jail indefinitely, electing to have a hearing before a district magistrate, or demanding a jury trial before the king's bench, criminal side, which does not sit until October.

"It is beyond me," said William Travers Jerome. "The fine points of Canadian law involved are such that I would not feel justified in even guessing at the outcome. We hope to get him in the end, but this tangle must be straightened out first."

Conger is Equally Puzzled.

District Attorney Conger of Dutchess county, N. Y., was equally puzzled and reticent. "If Mr. Jerome can't solve the middle, certainly I can't," he said.

Further to complicate matters counsel representing the state of New York are not sure that the commitment under which Thaw has chosen to remain in jail contains a charge of violating any of the Dominion's laws.

It is that of being a "fugitive from the Matteawan penitentiary," where he was confined on a criminal charge for life.

Hector Verret, K. C., representing New York state, said that he regarded the withdrawal of the writ on Thaw's behalf as tacit admission by his lawyers that the commitment was legal and did contain a charge on which Thaw could be brought into court.

"Then we might get out another commitment charging some other offense," he added. "We could bring him into court on that, surely."

"There would still remain, however, Thaw's right to choose trial either at once or before the king's bench in October."

Wilson Decides to Read Mexican Message to Congress.

HUERTA PLAYING FOR TIME

Indications Now Are That Negotiations With Southern Republic Are at an End—American Officials Possess Advice That Present Mexican Government Cannot Last Much Longer.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The dilatory attitude of the Huerta government gave administration officials hope that some concessions might be made to the American proposals for peace in Mexico, but indications point to a final ending of the negotiations when President Wilson reads his message to both houses of congress defining the policy which he thinks the United States should pursue toward its Southern neighbor.

A twenty-four hour postponement of the presentation of the message was agreed to after a joint request from Frederico Gamboa, Mexican foreign minister, and John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico.

It followed repeated efforts on the part of the Huerta officials to have the reading of the document deferred indefinitely.

Mr. Lind left the Mexican capital for Vera Cruz, however, with the understanding that the United States would announce its policy today unless the Huerta government receded.

Mr. Lind had made certain supplementary suggestions to Senor Gamboa, the nature of which was not divulged, but administration officials declared these constituted no departure from the fundamentals of the American note.

Lind Stops at Vera Cruz.

Mr. Lind informed Senor Gamboa that he would stop in Vera Cruz and could be reached there in case there should be any reply to his last suggestions.

For several days Gamboa and Lind have been fencing, the former attempting to procure a new basis of negotiations and the latter declaring the United States would not yield any of its points or agree to any considerable prolongation of the negotiations, unless Huerta withdrew his note of reply to the American proposals.

Officials declared that Mr. Lind had gone to Vera Cruz to avoid any embarrassment in the Mexican capital following the publication there of President Wilson's message.

It was said that Mr. Lind, having practically concluded his mission, went to Vera Cruz chiefly to impress upon the Mexican administration that today noon is positively the last moment the United States will wait before proclaiming to the world the position it has taken toward the Huerta government and the course which it is ready to pursue for years if necessary to uphold the principle of orderly and constitutional government in Latin-America.

Huerta Not Asked to Retire.

With the nature of the four proposals of the United States admitted officially discussion centered chiefly on the absence of any demand for the immediate retirement of Huerta, which had generally been supposed was part of the American note.

It was suggested by officials, however, that this government could not logically call upon Huerta to resign a post which it never recognized him as legally holding.

While American officials regret that they were unsuccessful in bringing things to a definite point through the Lind negotiations, information, official and unofficial, indicates to them that the Huerta government cannot last much longer.

The United States will preserve a policy of noninterference and non-recognition, while developments take their course. Officials are emphatic, however, in declaring they will insist on proper protection of foreigners and their interests, though they will urge foreigners to leave the trouble zones.

BORAH'S INCOME TAX RATES LOSE

Ten Republicans Aid Democrats in Defeating Plan.

VOTE IN SENATE IS 47 TO 17

Demand for an Increase of the Tax on Large Incomes Is Accompanied by the Assertion That Men With Great Wealth Will Escape Their Just Share of the Taxes Under the New Bill.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Attempts to increase the limit of the proposed income tax on the larger incomes failed in the senate when Senators Borah, Bristow and Cummins led an effort to amend the income tax section of the Democratic tariff bill.

Senator Borah offered an amendment increasing the graduated tax on larger incomes until it would have reached 5 per cent on those above $4,000 a year. The Democrats, aided by ten Republicans, defeated the amendment, 47 to 17.

A more radical provision, with a minimum tax of 10 per cent on incomes of $100,000 or more, will be submitted by Senator Bristow.

In the pending bill the rates on larger incomes are: 1 per cent on incomes from $20,000 to $50,000; 2 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; and 3 per cent above $100,000.

Senator Borah proposed the following additional tax 1 per cent on incomes from $10,000 to $30,000; 2 per cent from $30,000 to $50,000; 3 per cent from $50,000 to $100,000; 4 per cent from $100,000 to $1,000,000; and 5 per cent above $1,000,000.

The Democrats voted solidly against the increase and were joined by Senators Clarke of Wyoming; Gallinger, Lippitt, Lodge, Oliver, Penrose, Root, Smoot, Warren and Weeks, from the Republican side.

The demand for an increase of the tax on the big incomes was accompanied by the declaration that men with large incomes would escape their just share of the taxes under the new bill.

PLANS BIG GRAFT INQUIRY

Milwaukee Prosecutor Will Investigate All County Departments.

Milwaukee, Aug. 27.—District Attorney Edward Vockey announced his intention of making an extensive inquiry into every department of the Milwaukee county government as the result of graft charges brought against John Falbe, steward at the county asylum for insane.

Falbe was arraigned in district court and his hearing was postponed until Sept. 9.

It is alleged that he obtained $68 from the Cudahy Packing company in the form of discounts for making purchases from the Cudahy company.

NO STRIKE ON BURLINGTON

Differences Between Trainmen and Road Will Be Arbitrated.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—Danger of a strike affecting the 45,000 trainmen of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad was averted.

Points at issue involved in a complete revision of the working conditions on the road will be decided by an arbitration committee of eight men to be appointed within fifteen days.

This was announced by Judge W. L. Chambers, United States commissioner of mediation.

LEAD MINERS GIVEN RAISE

Strike in Missouri Settled on Plan Proposed by State Board.

Farmington, Mo., Aug. 27.—The strike in the lead belt of southwestern Missouri has been settled. The miners agreed to accept a wage increase of 25 cents a day. The Western Federation of Miners was not formally recognized in the settlement.

The plan of settlement to which both union men and mine owners agreed was that submitted by the state board of mediation and arbitration.

TAMMANY NAMES WHITMAN

New York District Attorney Endorsed for Re-Election.

New York, Aug. 27.—Tammany Hall placed District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, Republican, on its ticket for re-election. The district attorney, when informed of Tammany's action, said he was not ready to say whether he would accept the designation, but would make his decision known within two or three days.

Mr. Whitman's acceptance of the Tammany endorsement would place his name on the fusionist, Independence league, Republican, Progressive and Tammany tickets.

MINNESOTA BANKS

SECURE $2,000,000

Treasury Allows Money to Aid in Marketing Crops.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The appropriation of $2,000,000 to banks in St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to aid them in marketing crops was announced by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

A. M. Peabody and P. M. Kerst, both of St. Paul, were named as special representatives of the government to assist the clearing house commission to pass upon securities offered for the proposed deposits.

"In each depository city," said Secretary McAdoo, "the government has chosen a special representative who will serve in conjunction with a clearing house commission of five to pass on all commercial paper recommended as security for deposits and all paper before being accepted must be unanimously recommended by this commission."

The total amount allotted to date is $46,500,000, of which $24,000,000 has been appropriated to fourteen Western states and $21,500,000 to the thirteen Southern states and the District of Columbia.

WIDOW GETS BULK OF ESTATE

Will of Murdered Millionaire Is Filed for Probate.

Duluth, Aug. 27.—Sarah H. McAlpine, widow of John McAlpine, wealthy Duluth lumberman, who was murdered in the basement of his home Aug. 15, is named as chief legatee and one of the three executors of her husband's estate, in a will which was filed in probate court.

The estate, exclusive of life and accident insurance policies, is estimated at more than $500,000.

Under the terms of the will, all except $15,000 goes to the widow. Dale McAlpine, stepson, and his niece, who were living at the McAlpine home at the time of his death, are not mentioned in the will.

MILLIONAIRE SITS ON JURY

Six Men Chosen to Try F. Drew Caminetti.

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—Six men have been chosen as members of a jury that will try F. Drew Caminetti on the indictment charging him with violation of the Mann white slave act.

Three of the jurors are men who were rejected at the trial of Maury I. Diggs, friend and companion of Caminetti, who was convicted last Wednesday in the same court on a similar charge. Four of them are men of wealth, one being Francis J. Carolano, society leader, polo player and millionaire.

Rich Woman Under Bond.

New York, Aug. 27.—Mrs. William Valla, wife of the president of the Velle Motor company of Moline, Ill., was held in $10,000 bail for the federal grand jury upon charges of having failed to declare $3,000 worth of jewelry, linen and cut glass on her arrival from Europe recently. Miss Mary J. Lilly, her companion, was held under $500 bail.

PUSHING THE CURRENCY BILL

Looks as Though the "Impossible" Would Happen.

WILSON FORCING CONGRESS

Massachusetts Members Fighting Free Fish—"Accidental" Protection on Bananas—Lack of Attention by Opposing Faction—Gardner to Make Tariff Issue in Gubernatorial Fight.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 27.—[Special.]—What senators and representatives said was impossible is to be accomplished. Currency legislation has been "impossible" during all those years. As different bills have been proposed, including the much abused Aldrich plan (which by some other name would have been called very good), legislators have practically thrown up their hands and said nothing could pass.

But several months ago the president sent a message to congress saying that currency legislation was needed. But even the majority party did not take it very seriously, although work progressed on the bill in the hands of real enthusiasts. Then a movement for postponement was made, to which nearly everybody agreed until the president sent the faithful Tammany to the senate and the caucus by an overwhelming majority decided to stay and push currency legislation. It seems to be the man behind the gun that makes this possible.

Taft Also Forced Action.

It must not be supposed that Roosevelt and Wilson are the only men who could "drive" congress. Taft forced congress as well as other presidents. A notable example was in the Canadian reciprocity bill. Senator Borah of Idaho, commenting on the criticisms of Wilson for forcing his ideas, said he did not take much comfort in them. "If Republican senators," he said, "had voted their convictions when the Canadian reciprocity bill was before congress there would not have been ten votes on the Republican side in favor of it."

Senator Borah was extremely mild. As I recall, there was scarcely a Republican senator who was really in favor of the bill, but was forced by the Taft administration.

Massachusetts Fish.

Those Massachusetts men can always be found on the firing line when a measure comes up taking the duty off fish. There was a strong fight against the Canadian reciprocity bill made by Congressman Gardner. The same member fought the fish provision in the Underwood bill, and both Massachusetts senators were on hand contesting the free fish provision in the senate.

Senator Lodge was not only eloquent, but historical, calling both the Adamses, who had been president, to sustain him in his fight for the fishing interests of Gloucester and Provincetown.

For some unknown reason fish goes into the agricultural schedule, and the Massachusetts senators were fighting side by side with western agricultural senators on this schedule.

"Accidental" Protection.

We have heard a great deal about "accidental" protection, but it was Senator Lane who found "accidental" protection in one item. The Oregon senator was favoring the duty on bananas and said that when the Panama canal was completed the apples and other fruits of Oregon would be sold in the east in place of bananas. Senator Jones of Washington asked if the rate on bananas was intended as a protective duty.

"I think not," replied Lane. "I think it just accidentally happens that way." There was quite an outburst of laughter at the answer.

Burton's Seriousness.

Senator Williams replied to Senator Burton in the senate, prefacing his remarks by saying, "It is a well known fact to all those who know and love him that when he does try to look serious nobody in the world can look more serious than my genial friend, the senator from Ohio."

But Burton is always quite serious.

Lack of Attention.

Senator Smith of Michigan called attention to the fact that only eight Democratic senators listened to Senator Bristow's speech opening the debate on the sugar schedule, although it was conceded that the Kansas senator was one of the best informed men in the senate on sugar.

A little later while Senator Williams was speaking Bristow asked to be excused as he had had no lunch. "Why," exclaimed Williams, "I thank God for the fact that there is nothing in the constitution compelling us to listen to one another. It would be the most miserable existence on earth if we had to stay here all the time and hear one another."

Gardner and the Tariff.

If Congressman Gardner is nominated for governor of Massachusetts he will make the tariff the issue. In fact, it has been given out by the Republicans that they intend to force that issue in every state holding an election this fall. Gardner has already printed the views of New England men in pamphlet form for distribution in the Old Bay State during the campaign.

Useless.

Grocer—Wouldn't you like some horse-radish? Mrs. Newlywed—Mercy, no! We don't keep a horse!—Judge.

DEDICATE KEOKUK POWER DAM

Five Hundred School Girls in White Lead Parade.

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 27.—With Governor George W. Clarke of Iowa to welcome visitors to the Hawkeye domain and Mayor J. F. Elder acting on behalf of the city the Keokuk and Hamilton power dam was dedicated. A parade through the business streets, thence to Rand park, where the formal exercises were held, was a feature. Five hundred school girls, all dressed in white and bedecked with flowers, led the parade.

C. R. Joy, president of the Keokuk Industrial association, presided at the ceremony of dedication.

EMERY DECLARES

BUCHANAN A CROOK

Manufacturers' Counsel Scores Illinois Congressman.

Washington, Aug. 27.—Examination of James A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, about the activity of agents of the association against Representative Buchanan of Illinois ended the session of the senate lobby committee.

Emery said he opposed Buchanan because he considered the latter, as an official of the structural iron workers, had sanctioned violence at Toledo, which differed only in degree from the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building.

"Well, the people of Chicago elected that bad man Buchanan, didn't they?" suggested Reed.

"Yes, and they elected Lorimer," replied the witness.

"And Edward Hines, one of your members, assisted to elect him. Did you ever assist in trying to defeat a crook?" asked Senator Reed.

"Yes, and this is a good illustration."

"You mean to characterize Buchanan as a crook?"

"I think that is a good description."

Emery was questioned at length concerning his office accounts, the investigators being particularly interested in one item, varying from $170 to $300 a month, "for clerical services."

Witness could not remember details of this, but said he thought the money was spent in keeping up an automobile for publicity and political activities.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 27.—Miss Olive Saxton, for sixteen years secretary to Thomas A. Clark, dean of the University of Illinois, committed suicide in her room. The first coroner's jury composed of women that ever served in this country returned a verdict that death had been caused by asphyxiation.

GO FISHING IN LEAKY BOAT

Two Brothers and Sister Drown in Lake St. Clair.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 27.—Miss Sarah Cline-Smith, twenty-nine years old, and her brothers, Lawrence and Charles, seventeen and twenty-six years old, respectively, all of Detroit, were drowned in Lake St. Clair, off Pearl Beach.

They went fishing in a leaky boat and when it filled they jumped overboard. A man in a motor boat went to the rescue, but the victims sank before he could reach them.

Flood Costs One Life.

Ely, Nev., Aug. 27.—One man was drowned when a wall of water from a cloudburst swept down Murray creek, which flows through Ely. The flood rose above the banks of the stream and inundated a portion of the business and residence section to a depth of several feet.

THAW LAWYERS CHANGE TACTICS

TO SAVE HIS WIFE'S HONOR

Milwaukee Prisoner Charges Police Drove Him to Crime.

Milwaukee, Aug. 27.—Following a dramatic plea that he forged checks to save his wife from dishonor, after being branded as a former convict by the police and charitable societies so that he could not hold a job, James Ludford was sentenced to two years in the state prison at Waupun.

Ludford is forty years old. He was born in England, served in the British army during the Boer war and then came to the United States. He is said to have a criminal record which extends to every state in the Union. He was sent to Stillwater prison for forgery a few years ago and also served time at Waupun.

He told the court that his wife was driven to dishonor by persecution by police and charitable workers. He said that when he left Stillwater he tried to give his wife a home but the police would not let him.

"The Mothering Heart"

Through chastening experience the young husband learns the power of mother love (In two parts.) Always mothering something the girl came into her own. So thorough the mother spirit she yielded to her young admirer's persuasions. He was such a sorry young person. Soon her sacrificing heart brightened the path of the struggling husband—her own heartaches forgotten for her loved one. With prosperity came the idle woman and a young wife's struggle against the truth. A new light broke, then darkened but shone again the clearer.

JAY HENRY LONG IS SUMMONED

Brainerd Lawyer Passed Away at
Hospital in St. Paul at 5:15
This Morning

REMAINS WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

Prominent as a Lawyer in Slayton,
Mankato and Brainerd—Once
a Newspaper Man

Judge Jay Henry Long passed away at a hospital in St. Paul at 5:15 this morning, following an operation performed last Friday. Death was due to cancer of the stomach. Mr. Long had been failing in health half year and friends in Brainerd noticed that his once robust figure was growing thin. He maintained his cheerful demeanor and even his best friends did not know he was seriously ill.

The Late Jay Henry Long

He leaves a wife at Minneapolis and four children: Mrs. L. B. Lowe, wife of Dr. Lowe, of Glendon; Miss Marion B. Long, of Minneapolis; Stacy S. Long, of International Falls, a conductor in the employ of the Canadian Northern railway; Jay Long, of Kenewick, Wash.

The remains will be sent to Brainerd and are expected to arrive on the midnight train. Burial will be at Brainerd.

Jay Henry Long was born at Honeybrook, Chester county, Pennsylvania, August 12, 1853. He graduated from Princeton university in 1876. He studied law in a law office at Westchester, Pennsylvania. Mr. Long came to Minnesota in 1882 and was managing editor of the Daily Journal at Fergus Falls for four years.

He removed to Slayton, Minnesota in 1887 and practiced law there until 1888, holding office at one time as a member of the city council.

He went to Mankato and was charter commissioner and attorney and was elected secretary of the business association. He also held office as municipal judge.

At Brainerd Mr. Long had a large legal practice and was counsel in many prominent cases. He prepared the defense in the Dumas case in which the jury declared the former Cass Lake executive not guilty.

He was a leading member of the socialist party, being secretary of the Brainerd local, secretary of the county central committee and twice candidate for county attorney on the socialist ticket.

Mr. Long was a Mason, a member of the Modern Woodmen of America of Slayton camp, a member of the Brainerd Commercial club and one of the founders of the Brainerd Boosters club. His pen and voice were always on the side of any project which would benefit Brainerd. The navigation of the upper Mississippi as one of his hobbies and the Commercial club usually placed him on the river navigation committee.

He was largely instrumental in drawing up the street railway franchise of the Minnesota Central Railway company and as special counsel acted in an advisory capacity to the special committee of the council to whom the franchise had been referred.

Having been a newspaper man, Mr. Long had an eye and ear for news items and many is the time he gave the writer news tips of great value. His was a constructive force in the community. He believed in building up, not in tearing down. He praised Brainerd and its resources and did his best to interest people and capital in Brainerd. He was a frequent contributor to the Dispatch and other papers on matter of public interest.

Notice

Sealed proposals will be received until 8:00 P. M., September 2nd, by the city clerk for the paving with concrete of Sixth street north from Main street to Juniper street according to the plans and specifications on file with the city clerk and city engineer.

The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

STRICT NEUTRALITY IS ANNOUNCED

Special to Dispatch:

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27—In a message to Congress today the president announced the position of the United States as follows: No armed intervention, strict neutrality, forbidding the exportation of arms or munitions of war, under no circumstances to be partisans of either party to contest that now distracts Mexico, or constitute ourselves virtual umpire between them to urge all Americans to leave Mexico at once to assist them to get away in every way possible.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 27—New York state ruled out of court here today in dramatic preliminary skirmish with lawyers for Harry K. Thaw. Superior Judge C. J. Cullen, hearing arguments of Thaw's counsel on motion to discontinue writ of habeas corpus, absolutely refused to entertain objections of Hector Verra, representing New York. Adjournment of court resulted.

Feeding the Farm Horse.

The ideal ration is one that keeps the horse in a good, thrifty condition at a minimum cost. One serious mistake made by practical farmers is to feed working rations on idle days, thinking to prepare the horse better for the heavy work to come. A good practical ration for a 1,500 pound horse doing hard work is ten pounds of corn, eight pounds of oats, two pounds of bran and twelve pounds of clean, bright, mixed hay. The bran is a laxative and may be used as a corrector. If the horse is allowed the run of pasture during the night the bran should be entirely eliminated.—Country Gentleman—

PETITION FOR RURAL HIGHWAY

To Provide a Link in Road From Moorhead to Duluth, Serving
Brainerd and Deerwood

CONNECTIONS LATER WITH

Ironton, Crosby, Cuyuna and Riverton
—Estimated Cost of Improvement
$28,919

There has been filed with the county auditor under the provisions of the Elwell law a petition for the establishment, construction and improvement of a rural highway to provide a link in an improved highway from Moorhead to Duluth serving directly the city of Brainerd and the village of Deerwood, and by short proposed improved connections, the towns of Ironton, Crosby, Cuyuna and Riverton, and offering more direct and economical facilities to communities having an aggregate population of approximately 12,000 within Crow Wing county.

The cost of the proposed improvement as estimated by Engineer F. A. Glass is approximately $28,919 of which plans and profiles will cost $1022, clearing $1483, cuts and fills $16,740, grading $6,135, surfacing $400, culverts and drainage $998 and supervision and administration $2,143.

Under the Elwell law one-half of the cost is borne by the state, one-quarter by the assessment on real property benefited and one-quarter by the county.

The petitioners are Con O'Brien, owning the south half of the northwest quarter of section 22, township 45, range 30; R. R. Wise, owning all of section 36, township 46, range 30; F. A. Farrar, owning a one-quarter interest in the west half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of section 20 township 46, range 29; J. M. Elder, owning the east half of the southwest quarter of section 11, township 45, range 30; R. J. Hartley, owning a one-third interest in the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 21, township 45, range 30 and a one-sixth interest in the east half of the northwest quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30; Dr. G. M. Sewall, of Cuyuna, owning lot 6 in section 19, township 47, range 28; Frank Buchanan, of Cuyuna, owning lot 2, block 3, townsite of Cuyuna; Charles G. Osterlund, of Deerwood, owning lot 13, block 4, townsite of Deerwood.

The petitioners desire to have such state highway established, constructed and improved, including all necessary ditches, drains, culverts and bridges in the following manner: A natural earth roadbed, surfaced in the more sandy places with clayey gravel or such other suitable material as may be found within a short standard specifications of the State highway commission for the year 1912, for roads of that character, and for bridges and culverts of the character required.

The petition is to be heard by the county commissioners at the session Tuesday afternoon, September 2, at 2 o'clock.

The proposed starting point, route and terminus of this state rural highway are as follows:

Starting on State Rural Highway No. 2 at the quarter post common to sections 27 and 26, T. 45, R. 30, and following as near as practicable the existing roads to the Crow Wing-Aitkin county line such roads being more particularly described in general terms as follows, viz: From the above place of beginning thence north to the corner of section 15, 14, 22 and 23, thence east to the quarter corner of sections 14 and 23, thence north on the quarter line of sections 14, 11 and 2 to Sand Creek, slightly north of the center of section 2, all in Township 45, Range 30; thence northeasterly along an angling road through section 2 of town 45, range 30, and sections 35, 36 and 25 of town 46, range 30, and sections 30, 19 and 20 of T. 46, R. 29, thence east on the quarter line of sections 21 and 22; thence angling in a general northeasterly direction through sections 23, 24 and 13 of T. 46, R. 29, and sections 18 and 17 of T. 46, R. 28, to the village of Deerwood; thence through such streets of the village as may be designated by the village council; thence northeasterly through sections 9, 10, 3 and 2 of T. 46, R. 28, and sections 35 and 36 of T. 47, R. 28, a total length of approximately twenty-one miles.

ACT WITH THE COUNTY BOARD

County Auditor to Inform Committee
When and Where They are to
Hold Conference

Judge W. S. McClenahan has appointed the committee to take up the consideration of improving facilities at the court house, as recommended by the last grand jury.

Judge McClenahan in his communication to County Auditor J. F. Smart said: "Pursuant to a suggestion made by the last grand jury, followed by a recent conference between the county board and myself, I have selected the citizens of the county whose names are given below, to act in conjunction with the county board in considering the best course to pursue with reference to improving the facilities at the court house."

"As I have already explained to the board, there is no legal way to compensate the gentlemen named as members of this committee for their services in the premises, and I suggest that you, in notifying them of their appointment, advise them that such is the situation. They should also be informed of the time when and the place where their conference with the county board will be held."

"The names of the persons above referred to and their respective addresses are as follows:

Edward Crust, Third ward, Brainerd.
George A. Keene, Second ward, Brainerd.

HUNTING A POET.

In Shelley's Case It Was Fun, in Joaquin Miller's Dead Earnest.

Mr. Stephen Coleridge, great-grandnephew of the Coleridge who wrote "The Ancient Mariner," has published a volume of "Memories," in which he tells some interesting anecdotes of poets not in the family.—Both his grandfathers were schoolmates of Shelley, and one of them used to say that he had frequently joined in the diversion known as a "Shelley hunt." This simple sport consisted in "chivying about" from refuge to refuge the two poetic youngsters and in gleefully pelting him with whatever missiles came handy.

A lesser poet than Shelley, however, the late Joaquin Miller, was once more eagerly, if less hilariously, hunted. It was not, as "the poet of the Sierras" related it, a schoolboy affair, but a dead in earnest man hunt in the wild west and wooliest west. He had had the misfortune to buy a sorrel horse from a man who had no right to sell the animal. He was mistaken for the horse thief, pursued and overtaken.

There was a convenient cottonwood branching handsomely across the trail and lariat in plenty. It was a question of his neck. He argued, explained and grew eloquent in vain, when at the most critical instant a witness to his innocent purchase of the beast came up. "He ain't a thief," the newcomer explained. "He's only a poet."

"It's an awful pity to miss exterminating a poet when it can be did," the leader of his captors remarked thoughtfully after a disgusted pause. "Ever hear any of his poetry? Ever see him write any?"

"No," admitted the witness. "Then," declared the self-appointed judge with regret, "there's proof he ain't a thief, but only hearsay he's a poet. We got to let him go, but if he's got any sense he won't commit poetry again till he's out of my jurisdiction."

$25,000 SUIT FOR DAMAGES

August Mattson, Father of 9 Year
Old Wallace Mattson, Sues Cuyuna Range Power Co.

CHARGES IT WITH NEGLIGENCE

Alleges Boy Lost Right Arm From
Burns When He Climbed Pole
and Touched Wires

Through his attorneys, Alderman & Clark, August Mattson, of Crosby, father of Wallace Mattson, aged 9, has commenced a $25,000 suit for damages against the Cuyuna Range Power Company, alleging that negligence on the part of the power company in allowing poles carrying high power electric wires to be unguarded and not fenced in, was the cause of severe personal injuries to his son.

The father is guardian ad litem for the boy and alleges in his complaint that his son climbed a pole near Ironton, touched the wires and was so severely burned that his right arm had to be amputated close to the shoulder.

The accident is claimed to have happened at a point a mile from Riverton and near Ironton where the wires cross the Soo Line right of way. It is claimed that one pole is situated 30 feet from the main railway track running along the right of way. The place is said to be much traveled between Ironton and Riverton.

Children, it is alleged, are accustomed to play and loiter on this right of way. The pole, it is claimed, was so constructed as to be alluring and attractive to children to play on or about and to climb and many children were so accustomed to do. The wires carried 5,000 volts.

Mattson claims the pole was not guarded, fenced or enclosed and alleges further that the wires were not wrapped, protected, insulated or enclosed and that no notices or warnings were posted.

On June 26 of this year Wallace and another boy aged 9 were playing about the pole. Wallace climbed the pole to the top, placed his right hand or arm on one of the wires and was shocked and burned and thrown to the ground. The boy was fearfully burned over the entire body and permanently injured and crippled. His right arm, says the complaint in conclusion, had to be amputated near the shoulder.

FACT

Local Evidence

Evidence than can be verified. Fact is what we want. Opinion is not enough. Opinions differ. Here's a Brainerd fact. You can test it.

Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and as time passed, my condition grew worse. About a year ago I was suddenly taken with such a severe pain in the small of my back that I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine relieved me somewhat and I got out in a few weeks, but I still suffered severely. Someone finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply at H. P. Dunn's drug store. A few boxes restored me to good health and removed all symptoms of my complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will act just as satisfactorily in other cases of kidney trouble."

Ironton, Crosby, Cuyuna and Riverton
—Estimated Cost of Improvement $28,919

There has been filed with the county auditor under the provisions of the Elwell law a petition for the establishment, construction and improvement of a rural highway to provide a link in an improved highway from Moorhead to Duluth serving directly the city of Brainerd and the village of Deerwood, and by short proposed improved connections, the towns of Ironton, Crosby, Cuyuna and Riverton,, and offering more direct and economical facilities to communities having an aggregate population of approximately 12,000 within Crow Wing county.

The cost of the proposed improvement as estimated by Engineer F. A. Glass is approximately $28,919 of which plans and profiles will cost $1022, clearing $1483, cuts and fills $16,740, grading $6,135, surfacing $400, culverts and drainage $998 and supervision and administration $2,143.

Under the Elwell law one-half of the cost is borne by the state, one-quarter by the assessment on real property benefited and one-quarter by the county.

The petitioners are Con O'Brien, owning the south half of the northwest quarter of section 22, township 45, range 30; R. R. Wise, owning all of section 36, township 46, range 30; F. A. Farrar, owning a one-quarter interest in the west half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the northwest quarter of section 20 township 46, range 29; J. M. Elder, owning the east half of the southwest quarter of section 11, township 45, range 30; R. J. Hartley, owning a one-third interest in the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 21, township 45, range 30 and a one-sixth interest in the east half of the northwest quarter of section 13, township 45, range 30; Dr. G. M. Sewall, of Cuyuna, owning lot 6 in section 19, township 47, range 28; Frank Buchanan, of Cuyuna, owning lot 2, block 3, townsite of Cuyuna; Charles G. Osterlund, of Deerwood, owning lot 13, block 4, townsite of Deerwood.

The petitioners desire to have such state highway established, constructed and improved, including all necessary ditches, drains, culverts and bridges in the following manner: A natural earth roadbed, surfaced in the more sandy places with clayey gravel or such other suitable material as may be found within a short standard specifications of the State distance, in accordance with the Highway Commission for the year 1912, for roads of that character, and for bridges and culverts of the character required.

The petition is to be heard by the county commissioners at the session Tuesday afternoon, September 2, at 2 o'clock.

The proposed starting point, route and termini of this state rural highway are as follows:

Starting on State Rural Highway No. 2 at the quarter post common to sections 27 and 26, T. 45, R. 30, and following as near as practicable the existing roads to the Crow Wing-Aitkin county line such roads being more particularly described in general terms as follows, viz: From the above place of beginning thence north to the corner of section 15, 14, 22 and 23, thence east to the quarter corner of sections 14 and 23, thence north on the quarter line of sections 14, 11 and 2 to Sand Creek, slightly north of the center of section 2, all in Township 45, Range 30; thence northeasterly along an angling road through section 2 of town 45, range 30, and sections 35, 36 and 25 of town 46, range 30, and sections 30, 19 and 20 of T. 46, R. 29, thence east on the quarter line of sections 21 and 22; thence angling in a general northeasterly direction through sections 23, 24 and 13 of T. 46, R. 29, and sections 18 and 17 of T. 46, R. 28, to the village of Deerwood; thence through such streets of the village as may be designated by the village council; thence northeasterly through sections 9, 10, 3 and 2 of T. 46, R. 28, and sections 35 and 36 of T. 47, R. 28, a total length of approximately twenty-one miles.

County Auditor to Inform Committee
When and Where They are to
Hold Conference

Judge W. S. McClenahan has appointed the committee to take up the consideration of improving facilities at the court house, as recommended by the last grand jury.

Judge McClenahan in his communication to County Auditor J. F. Smart said: "Pursuant to a suggestion made by the last grand jury, followed by a recent conference between the county board and myself, I have selected the citizens of the county whose names are given below, to act in conjunction with the county board in considering the best course to pursue with reference to improving the facilities at the court house.

"As I have already explained to the board, there is no legal way to compensate the gentlemen named as members of this committee for their services in the premises, and I suggest that you, in notifying them of their appointment, advise them that such is the situation. They should also be informed of the time when and the place where their conference with the county board will be held.

"The names of the persons above referred to and their respective addresses are as follows:

HUNTING A POET.

In Shelley's Case It Was Fun, in Joaquin Miller's Dead Earnest.

Mr. Stephen Coleridge, great-grand-nephew of the Coleridge who wrote "The Ancient Mariner," has published a volume of "Memories" in which he tells some interesting anecdotes of poets not in the family.—Both his grandfathers were schoolmates of Shelley, and one of them used to say that he had frequently joined in the diversion known as a "Shelley hunt." This simple sport consisted in "chivvying about" from refuge to refuge the too poetic youngster and in gleefully pelting him with whatever missiles came handy.

A lesser poet than Shelley, however, the late Joaquin Miller, was once more eagerly, if less hilariously, hunted. It was not, as "the poet of the Sierras" related it, a schoolboy affair, but a dead in earnest man hunt in the wildest and wildest west. He had had the misfortune to buy a sorrel horse from a man who had no right to sell the animal. He was mistaken for the horse thief, pursued and overtaken.

There was a convenient cottonwood branching handsily across the trail and lariat in plenty. It was a question of his neck. He argued, explained and grew eloquent in vain, when at the most critical instant a witness to his innocent purchase of the beast came up. "He ain't a thief," the newcomer explained. "He's only a poet."

"It's an awful pity to miss exterminating a poet when it can be did," the leader of his captors remarked thoughtfully after a disgusted pause. "Ever hear any of his poetry? Ever see him write any?"

"No," admitted the witness. "Then," declared the self appointed judge with regret, "there's proof he ain't a thief, but only hearsay he's a poet. We got to let him go, but if he's got any sense he won't commit poetry again till he's out of my jurisdiction."

$25,000 SUIT FOR DAMAGES

August Mattson, Father of 9 Year
Old Wallace Mattson, Sues Cuyuna Range Power Co.

CHARGES IT WITH NEGLIGENCE

Alleges Boy Lost Right Arm From
Burns When He Climbed Pole
and Touched Wires

Through his attorneys, Alderman & Clark, August Mattson, of Crosby, father of Wallace Mattson, aged 9, has commenced a $25,000 suit for damages against the Cuyuna Range Power Company, alleging that negligence on the part of the power company in allowing poles carrying high power electric wires to be unguarded and not fenced in, was the cause of severe personal injuries to his son.

The father is guardian ad litem for the boy and alleges in his complaint that his son climbed a pole near Ironton, touched the wires and was so severely burned that his right arm had to be amputated close to the shoulder.

The accident is claimed to have happened at a point a mile from Riverton and near Ironton where the wires cross the Soo Line right of way. It is claimed that one pole is situated 30 feet from the main railway track running along the right of way. The place is said to be much traveled between Ironton and Riverton.

Children, it is alleged, are accustomed to play and loiter on this right of way. The pole, it is claimed, was so constructed as to be alluring and attractive to children to play on or about and to climb and many children were so accustomed to do. The wires carried 5,000 volts.

Mattson claims the pole was not guarded, fenced or enclosed and alleges further that the wires were not wrapped, protected, insulated or enclosed and that no notices or warnings were posted.

On June 26 of this year Wallace and another boy aged 9 were playing about the pole. Wallace climbed the pole to the top, placed his right hand or arm on one of the wires and was shocked and burned and thrown to the ground. The boy was fearfully burned over the entire body and permanently injured and crippled. His right arm, says the complaint in conclusion, had to be amputated near the shoulder.

Charles Ellison, 512 S. Quince St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "My kidneys were disordered for several years and as time passed, my condition grew worse. About a year ago I was suddenly taken with such a severe pain in the small of my back that I had to stop work and go to bed. Medicine relieved me somewhat and I got out in a few weeks, but I still suffered severely. Someone finally advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply at H. P. Dunn's drug store. A few boxes restored me to good health and removed all symptoms of my complaint. I am confident that Doan's Kidney Pills will act just as satisfactorily in other cases of kidney trouble."

MARRIAGE ON SHIPBOARD.

Authority Vested in Captains of British Vessels.

The captains of British war vessels are authorized by law to act as marriage "registrars," and the wedding ceremony may, therefore, take place on the high seas or on board an English man-of-war on a foreign station, subject to certain prescribed modifications. These indicate that the legality of the marriage depends on the commanding officer's compliance with the conditions of the foreign marriages act of 1892, which, with very slight differences, conforms to the conditions as to age, consent of parents, false oaths, residence, etc., applying to marriages in the United Kingdom.

Although no one may question a captain's authority to perform at sea the marriage ceremony or likewise to perform such service on board a British vessel on a foreign station, if any of the provisions laid down are not fulfilled the secretary of state for the home department has the power by means of a warrant to vary or annul the marriage performed under the act. But in the case of such a marriage the captain who acted as "registrar" is protected from any disastrous consequences ensuing from his act.

Before the passage of the act of 1892 commanding officers of war vessels and merchantmen celebrated marriages on board under an old act, and the marriage was of necessity confirmed on arrival at the nearest port by the British representative there. Where there was no diplomatic or consular representative the captain was empowered to act himself as consul and confirm his own deed.

In the merchant service of Great Britain the skipper enjoys even greater power. He is not obliged to return a certificate, the only compulsion on him being the necessity to "log" the marriage in his official log book, where it may be entered between reports dealing with the vessel's provisioning, her course, the weather encountered, the ships spoken and the many other details of the log.—Harper's Weekly.

THE IDEAL CHURCH IS OUTLINED

It is One That Teaches Charity to all and the Simple Truths of Christianity

ADDRESS OF W. H. GEMMELL

In my vision of the matter I see a great voluntary organization, built up and governed by business principles, which will disseminate, preach and teach the Christian truths we all stand for. It will have at its command fund to pay its ministers proper salaries so they can support their families in comfort and not be worried and harassed by the ever present financial question that too frequently distracts many a good and able man today; it will control great universities to educate its ministry; it will cover the land with its missionaries and see that they are not in danger of starving; it will, in large cities, have cathedrals with side chapels where the people can select the particular form of service that appeals to them most; and where their native language can be used if desired; it will be a strong and effective competitor of the Church of Rome for the honor and privilege of showing the people the way of right living on earth and teaching them of the Kingdom of God beyond, to which they are heirs. It is said "Salvation is free." In that statement there is a danger. To many people that which is free is cheap and not worth having. There is no reason why we should not have a church organization which will so appeal to the people that they will gladly pay to belong to it; in fact, one in which we will have a waiting list so that undesirable will not attain to full membership until they have demonstrated their willingness and desire to change their way of living and comply with the Commandments of God. There is no reason why a man should be willing to pay his dues to a lodge, or submit to dismissal on failure to do so, and not be anxious and zealous to pay his proper share of the cost of running his church.

A plan similar to the one I suggest would permit of business-like methods being applied to church financing and there would be no further money worries to detract the preacher from his important work of intelligently, hopefully and powerfully preaching the Gospel, and proclaiming the love of Jesus Christ and the Mercy of God.

Such a church should be independent of the state. It should ask no favors at its hands that are not accorded freely to all. It should and could pay taxes on its property the same as individuals and other corporations. It would make an exhaustive study of each locality where its work would be done and select and send the man best fitted to cope with the particular problems and evils there presented. It would do away with many small and pathetically weak congregations in numerous communities and produce one robust, alert and effective body stimulated by the knowledge that failure is impossible with unity back of them.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the deserts of water, you choose them as your guides and, following them, you reach destiny.

To my mind the ideal church would be the one that preaches the simple truths that Jesus Himself enunciated; that teaches charity to all, that recognizes our right to live and pursue happiness in our own way, provided we respect the laws of God and man, and that aids us so to do. Such a church will attract to it the bulk of all the people and thru it will we attain unto our ideal and our destiny; the reward awaiting us in the Great Beyond.

I have pictured the organization and the growth of Minnesota; I realize the defeats and disappointments in store for reformers or idealists and know that my suggestion would be bitterly attacked were I to launch it forth for immediate acceptance; but, nevertheless, I would like to see it provisionally tried in Minnesota. If it were, it would soon prove to be more than an experiment. Its success would soon be an accomplished fact and we would sail on, gathering strength as the years pass by, till the goal of our ambition be reached, the Judgment Day when all shall be united for the purpose of listening to the decree that shall show whether we have lived in vain. Can we not gain inspiration for our purpose from Miller's beautiful poem entitled "Columbus?"

"Behind him lay the gray Azores
Behind the gates of Hercules;
Before him not the ghost of snoring,
Before him only shoreless seas;
The good mate said, 'Now must we pray
For, lo; the very stars are gone.'
Brave Admiral speak, what shall I say?
'Why say: Sail on; Sail on.'"

"My men grow mutinous day by day;
My men grow ghastly, wan and weak;
The stout mate thought of home; a spray
Of salt wave washed his swarthy cheek;

"What shall I say, brave Admiral, say
If we sight naught but seas at dawn?"

"By, you shall say at break of day,
Sail on! Sail on! Sail on! and on!"

They sailed and sailed as winds might blow,
Until at last the blanched mate said:

"Why, now not even God would know
Should I and all my men fall dead.
These very winds forget their way,
For God from these dread seas is gone;
Now speak, brave Admiral, speak and say"

He said, "Sail on! Sail on, and on."

They sailed—they sailed, then spoke the mate,

"This mad sea shows his teeth to-night;

He curls his lips; he lies in wait
With lifted teeth, as if to bite;
Brave Admiral, say but one good word
What shall we do when hope is gone?"

The words leapt like a leaping sword,
"Sail on! Sail on! Sail on! and on."

Then pale and worn, he kept his deck
And peered thru darkness. Ah, that night
Of all dark nights; And then a speck
A light. A light! A light! A light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled!

It grew to be Time's burst of dawn;
He gained a world; he gave that world
Its grandest lesson—On! Sail on!"

Columbus gained a material world by courage and perseverance. Why should not we here on earth lay our plans to win the world eternal by the united and consolidated exercise of like virtues?

ONE TELEPHONE SYSTEM ENOUGH

From The Times, Leavenworth, Kans., Oct. 24, 1911.

Leavenworth's telephone bills are exactly twice as high as they should be. The town needs one good system, and one will be ample to its needs for a long time to come. Now, every merchant and business man at least is compelled to patronize both telephone systems, and many homes are paying double price. Two systems do not serve a single purpose that one would not.

Two telephone systems in Leavenworth should be combined. No one, as a matter of fact, understands this truth better than the managements themselves of the two companies. It probably is not generally known that plans for such a consolidation already have been considered, and a close approach made to agreement upon terms for the merger.

Such a step, however, is impossible at this time because the Kansas anti-trust law intervenes. Two telephone systems at Wichita some time ago contemplated consolidation, when they ran up against this statute.

Now the Kansas anti-trust law designed to prevent the suppression of competition between dealers in the same commodity is generally all right but as applied to telephones, is all wrong. A telephone is a public utility operating under a franchise and subject to municipal control. If the telephone systems, in Leavenworth were combined under one management, the city would still have the right to regulate the charges for service.

When the next Legislature assembles in this state, one of its first acts should be the modification of the anti-trust law in such a way as to exclude telephones from the effects of its operation.

Leavenworth pays many thousands of dollars a year for the extra telephone in the house and store which it does not want and does not need.—Adv.

Electric Lamps.

When your electric lamp burns with a red color and not white, as it did when it was put in, it is played out. A lamp burning thus should be replaced to save money. It is consuming more current than it should for the light it is giving and so is costly. It is a peculiar fact that inexperienced people think the electric lamp is like the old kerosene lamp—good for a lifetime, barring accidents. They do not stop to think that with the kerosene lamp the wick finally burned away and had to be replaced. The filament of the electric lamp performs the same function as the wick. Consequently it, too, burns out, but after a much longer use.—New York Sun.

MARRIAGE ON SHIPBOARD.

Authority Vested In Captains of British Vessels.

The captains of British war vessels are authorized by law to act as marriage "registrars," and the wedding ceremony may, therefore, take place on the high seas or on board an English man-of-war on a foreign station, subject to certain prescribed modifications. These indicate that the legality of the marriage depends on the commanding officer's compliance with the conditions of the foreign marriages act of 1892, which, with very slight differences, conforms to the conditions as to age, consent of parents, false oaths, residence, etc., applying to marriages in the United Kingdom.

Although no one may question a captain's authority to perform at sea the marriage ceremony or likewise to perform such service on board a British vessel on a foreign station, if any of the provisions laid down are not fulfilled the secretary of state for the home department has the power by means of a warrant to vary or annul the marriage performed under the act. But in the case of such a marriage the captain who acted as "registrar" is protected from any disastrous consequences ensuing from his act.

Before the passage of the act of 1892 commanding officers of war vessels and merchantmen celebrated marriages on board under an old act, and the marriage was of necessity confirmed on arrival at the nearest port by the British representative there. Where there was no diplomatic or consular representative the captain was empowered to act himself as consul and confirm his own deed.

In the merchant service of Great Britain the skipper enjoys even greater power. He is not obliged to return a certificate, the only compulsion on him being the necessity to "log" the marriage in his official log book, where it may be entered between reports dealing with the vessel's provisioning, her course, the weather encountered, the ships spoken and the many other details of the log.—Harper's Weekly.

THE IDEAL CHURCH IS OUTLINED

It is One That Teaches Charity to all and the Simple Truths of Christianity

ADDRESS OF W. H. GEMMELL

Delivered at Ministerial Association Meeting—Sketches Career of State and Nation

In my vision of the matter I see a great voluntary organization, built up and governed by business principles, which will disseminate, preach and teach the Christian truths we all stand for. It will have at its command fund to pay its ministers proper salaries so they can support their families in comfort and not be worried and harassed by the ever present financial question that too frequently distracts many a good and able man today; it will control great universities to educate its ministry; it will cover the land with its missionaries and see that they are not in danger of starving; it will, in large cities, have cathedrals with side chapels where the people can select the particular form of service that appeals to them most; and where their native language can be used if desired; it will be a strong and effective competitor of the Church of Rome for the honor and privilege of showing the people the way of right living on earth and teaching them of the Kingdom of God beyond, to which they are heirs. It is said "Salvation is free." In that statement there is a danger. To many people that which is free is cheap and not worth having. There is no reason why we should not have a church organization which will so appeal to the people that they will gladly pay to belong to it; in fact, one in which we will have a waiting list so that undesirable will not attain to full membership until they have demonstrated their willingness and desire to change their way of living and comply with the Commandments of God. There is no reason why a man should be willing to pay his dues to a lodge, or submit to dismissal on failure to do so, and not be anxious and zealous to pay his proper share of the cost of running his church.

A plan similar to the one I suggest would permit of business-like methods being applied to church financing and there would be no further money worries to detract the preacher from his important work of intelligently, hopefully and powerfully preaching the Gospel, and proclaiming the love of Jesus Christ and the Mercy of God.

Such a church should be independent of the state. It should ask no favors at its hands that are not accorded freely to all. It should and could pay taxes on its property the same as individuals and other corporations. It would make an exhaustive study of each locality where its work would be done and select and send the man best fitted to cope with the particular problems and evils there presented. It would do away with many small and pathetically weak congregations in numerous communities and produce one robust, alert and effective body stimulated by the knowledge that failure is impossible with unity back of them.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. But like the seafaring man on the deserts of water, you choose them as your guides and, following them, you reach destiny.

To my mind the ideal church would be the one that preaches the simple truths that Jesus Himself enunciated; that teaches charity to all, that recognizes our right to live and pursue happiness in our own way, provided we respect the laws of God and man, and that aids us so to do. Such a church will attract to it the bulk of all the people and thru it we will attain unto our ideal and our destiny; the reward awaiting us in the Great Beyond.

I have pictured the organization and the growth of Minnesota; I realize the defeats and disappointments in store for reformers or idealists and know that my suggestion would be bitterly attacked were I to launch it forth for immediate acceptance; but, nevertheless, I would like to see it provisionally tried in Minnesota. If it were, it would soon prove to be more than an experiment. Its success would soon be an accomplished fact and we would sail on, gathering strength as the years pass by, till the goal of our ambition be reached, the Judgment Day when all shall be united for the purpose of listening to the decree that shall show whether we have lived in vain. Can we not gain inspiration for our purpose from Miller's beautiful poem entitled "Columbus:"

"Behind him lay the gray Azores
Behind the gates of Hercules;
Before him not the ghost of shores,
Before him only shoreless seas;
The good mate said, 'Now must we pray
For, lo, the very stars are gone.'
Brave Admiral! speak, what shall I say?
'Why say: Sail on; Sail on.'
'My men grow mutinous day by day;
My men grow ghastly, wan and weak;
The stout mate thought of home; a spray
Of salt wave washed his swarthy cheek;

"What shall I say, brave Admiral, say
If we sight naught but seas at dawn?"
"By, you shall say at break of day,
Sail on! Sail on! Sail on! and on!"

They sailed and sailed as winds might blow,
Until at last the blanched mate said:
"Why, now not ever! God would know
Should I and all my men fall dead.
These very winds forget their way,
For God from these dread seas is gone;
Now speak, brave Admiral, speak and say!"

He said, "Sail on! Sail on, and on."
They sailed—they sailed, then spoke the mate,
"This mad sea shows his teeth tonight;
He curls his lips; he lies in wait
With lifted teeth, as if to bite;
Brave Admiral, say but one good word
What shall we do when hope is gone?"

The words leapt like a leaping sword,
"Sail on! Sail on! Sail on! and on."
Then pale and worn, he kept his deck
And peered thru darkness. Ah, that night
Of all dark nights; And then a speck
A light. A light! A light! A light!
It grew, a starlit flag unfurled!
It grew to be Time's burst of dawn;
He gained a world; he gave that world
Its grandest lesson—On! Sail on!"

Columbus gained a material world by courage and perseverance. Why should not we here on earth lay our plans to win the world eternal by the united and consolidated exercise of like virtues?

"Tales of Honey and Tar" From West and East
Wm. Lee, Paskenta, Calif., says: "It gives universal satisfaction and I use only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for my children." E. C. Rhodes, Middleton, Ga., writes: "I had a racking lagrippe cough and finally got relief taking Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." Use no other in your family and refuse substitutes. For sale by H. P. Dunn.—Adv. mwv

ONE TELEPHONE SYSTEM ENOUGH

From The Times, Leavenworth, Kans., Oct. 24, 1911.

Leavenworth's telephone bills are exactly twice as high as they should be. The town needs one good system, and one will be ample to its needs for a long time to come. Now, every merchant and business man at least is compelled to patronize both telephone systems, and many homes are paying double price. Two systems do not serve a single purpose that one would not.

Two telephone systems in Leavenworth should be combined. No one, as a matter of fact, understands this truth better than the managements themselves of the two companies. It probably is not generally known that plans for such a consolidation already have been considered, and a close approach made to agreement upon terms for the merger.

Such a step, however, is impossible at this time because the Kansas anti-trust law intervenes. Two telephone systems at Wichita some time ago contemplated consolidation, when they ran up against this statute.

Now the Kansas anti-trust law designed to prevent the suppression of competition between dealers in the same commodity is generally all right but as applied to telephones, is all wrong. A telephone is a public utility operating under a franchise and subject to municipal control. If the telephone systems, in Leavenworth were combined under one management, the city would still have the right to regulate the charges for service.

When the next Legislature assembles in this state, one of its first acts should be the modification of the anti-trust law in such a way as to exclude telephones from the effects of its operation.

Leavenworth pays many thousands of dollars a year for the extra telephone in the house and store which it does not want and does not need.—Adv.

GO THE RIGHT WAY.

The hill, though high, I covet to ascend.
The difficulty will not me offend,
For I perceive the way to life lies here.
Come, pluck up heart; let's neither faint nor fear.
Better, though difficult, the right way to go.
Than wrong, though easy, where the end is woe.
—John Bunyan.

There is no act, however trivial, but has its train of consequences, as there is no hair so small but casts its shadow.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Cataract to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Hall, of Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 1 drop to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous membrane of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. For circulars and testimonials, address, F. J. Cheney & Co., 1000 Broadway, New York City. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Electric Lamps.

When your electric lamp burns with a red color and not white, as it did when it was put in, it is played out. A lamp burning thus should be replaced to save money. It is consuming more current than it should for the light it is giving and so is costly. It is a peculiar fact that inexperienced people think the electric lamp is like the old kerosene lamp—good for a lifetime, barring accidents. They do not stop to think that with the kerosene lamp the wick finally burned away and had to be replaced. The filament of the electric lamp performs the same function as the wick. Consequently it, too, burns out, but after a much longer use.—New York Sun.

Sand and Lime Bricks.

Bricks made of sand and lime and hardened in the air are used largely in communities where there is no clay from which clay brick can be made, but where an abundance of sand can be found.

THINGS TO AVOID.

There is something harder to face than death, and that is the realization of failure and misdirected effort and wrongdoing.
